To Whom It May Concern

RE: Comfort Systems

We have had the opportunity to work with Comfort Systems over the past numerous years and have always had a great experience. We have worked with them on hard bid projects as well as design build. There are a number of reasons we will continue to have Comfort Systems as one of our team members. Here are just a few.

- Experience: Comfort Systems has always demonstrated their knowledge of mechanical systems. Their ability to recognize issues and to help with solutions has proved to be very beneficial to our customers. They offer great suggestions that add value to the project.
- Ability: Regardless of how difficult a project is, they have always been more than capable to handle any project we've thrown at them.
- Team Member: Comfort Systems is very professional and represents us well in front of an owner. Also, typically a subcontractor will have a salesman sell the job and then we never see them again. In using Comfort Systems, we have found that even though Larry has finished "selling the job", he is still available and involved with the project.

Overall, Comfort Systems has been a valuable team member to SIRQ and we would highly recommend them as a mechanical contractor to anyone.

Thanks
